LIZZIE PARKER

Twitter, blogs, Facebook and iPhone apps have made it easier than ever to follow New York Fashion Week this season. It's always interesting (to fashion lovers, at least) to see what designers are projecting for fall 2010, a whole two seasons in the future.

Los Angeles has a Fashion Week, too, coming up March 17-24, and I just got word that eco-friendly, Issaquah-based designer Lizzie Parker has been invited to present at "The Green Initiative: A Humanitarian Fashion Show," sponsored by the Green Youth Movement (GYM).

The "Green Initiative" show is happening at 1 p.m. on Saturday, March 20, at Sunset Gower Studios in Hollywood, and is "positioned to prove that fashion and sustainability can go hand-in-hand, and that eco-conscious alternatives can be just as 'haute' on the runway," according to the press release.

Parker plans on showing designs from Eizzil, her new one-size-fits-most drawstring line featuring her signature eco-friendly jersey fabrics.
